

Family support weekend 2019

Our Annual Family support weekend 2019 was held at Alton Towers, the weekend was very successful and was attended by 20 families, some of whom had travelled from as far as Cornwall and Scotland. The feedback we have received from the families has been amazing.

Our meets ups have become a very important source of support for so many of our families, allowing them to meet up with others that simply understand the challenges of children with PDH Deficiency.

The families had a lot of fun in the Theme parks and relaxing in the hotel, before our big social gathering in the evening.

Specialist metabolic doctors and dieticians attended the event offering the families an opportunity to have their many questions answered.

The funds you kindly donated meant we could provide a fun filled weekend supporting our families, providing them with a safe place to come and simply offload and unwind. This enables us to take a huge pressure off the families, meaning they can just come and have a great weekend.
